

PAPER 1 / QUESTION 132

8825-6707 / original question 3

- 132. A ball is thrown vertically upwards. Air resistance is not negligible. Four positions of the ball are shown: A and B on the way up, C at the maximum height, and D on the way down. At which position does the acceleration of the ball have its greatest magnitude?

